

RED CROSS ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE ADAMS COUNTY CHAPTER—HOME SERVICE SECTION

Covering From Oct. 1, 1922, To Oct. 1, 1923, With Work Unlike Any Other Home Organization.

The work of the Red Cross in Adams County during the past year has been to serve, as fully and completely as possible the need that presented itself, and at the same time to conserve the funds in the local treasury, in order to make them last so that the Red Cross service might be given until the annual Roll Call might make its appeal to the hearts of our County.

For this reason, the financial help given has been less than in any previous year, but we have been able to co-operate with more welfare agencies than ever before, and so we secured for our families the service they most needed.

463 visits have been made, and practically every section of the county has been visited; while at the Red Cross Office in the Court House 379 calls for a service in some form, have been made by our ex-service men or civilian families. The above includes 147 visits by 77 ex-service men and 216 visits by 72 civilian families who brought problems as varied as the number who came, and to all the Red Cross gave its best service, regardless of race or creed, for "The Red Cross is color, creed and race blind. It sees only the need, and follows the line of vision."

In the interests of our people, 316 letters were sent, and 214 received. We have given 37 new garments and 150 partly worn, and three pairs of shoes. Also many magazines and some books and toys.

For the disabled ex-service man, the after effects of the war have not materially lessened. Although the glory and joy of his return home has faded into the sober realities of the civilian life in which he has tried so manfully—with his handicap of reduced physical ability—to cope with the pressing need of supporting those dear to him. And too frequently, his nerves have been wrecked by the experiences and memories of war service which shake his very soul. The Red Cross still feels the sacred obligation laid upon it by the Government of the United States, to serve these men and bridge the gap between the U. S. Veterans' Bureau with its necessary formalities and the immediate needs of the men. It is frequently impossible for the men themselves, to secure the information requested by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau unless the Red Cross comes to their assistance. It may be affidavits of former comrades who can be located, wherever they may be in the United States, through the Red Cross, and there is always some Red Cross worker who can be depended upon to find the man and get the needed statements. Your local Red Cross office co-operated last year with Red Cross workers in nine different states, from California and Colorado to Massachusetts, and from N. Dakota to Florida and Arizona. More than a hundred birth, marriage and death records and affidavits were secured and sent in the interests of our ex-service men. Applications in new compensation claims were filed with the U. S. V. Bureau for six ex-service men, two widows and one mother. This means that over $500 per month or $6000 a year comes back to our county in return from the Government as the result of our work last year for these disabled veterans.

We have assisted in the hospitalization of 4 ex-service men, and paid transportation for them in three cases. To the men who are still in Army service, the Red Cross continues to be a connecting link between them and their homes. Service in some form has been given to 7 men in the service, through the Red Cross Field Director at as many Army Stations.

The transient, disabled, ex-service man is one of our most distressing problems, because of the little we can do for him. Situated as we are on the crossing of two great highways, we have frequent calls to serve these wayfarers, whose disability, usually tubercular or nervous, impels them to wander. Our depleted funds have not permitted us to give any cash assistance except as it has been contributed at the time of need from outside sources, and of course, it is always necessary to discriminate between the unfortunates who wander, for we have to watch for the impostor, but we have many times felt the need of a place or funds so that the disabled, wandering ex-service man who can show genuine credentials might be sheltered for a few days until his home care might be secured for him. In several cases men have been persuaded to return to hospitals for needed treatment, and others have been helped with clothing and food. But the only places of shelter available have been the two County Institutions, our Almshouse and Jail. Those in charge of these Institutions have been very kind in co-operating with the Red Cross, but the need still remains for funds and a place for this particular purpose, for neither the Red Cross nor the American Legion can meet it at present.

The out-standing need of our civilian families has been child welfare. Glasses were furnished in two cases. 14 children were taken to hospitals for examination, operation or treatment. The hospitals used were the Jefferson Hospital, (orthopedic and nervous clinics, and orthopedic ward), and Episcopal Hospital, of Philadelphia, the Harrisburg Hospital, and our local Hospital. Especial mention is due the Social Service Departments of both the Jefferson and the Episcopal Hospitals, for they have responded willingly to every request for service, and have given our children every care and attention possible. In a recent case, returned to us an expensive brace was furnished by the Social Service Department of Jefferson Hospital.

We have co-operated with the State Department of Health in sending patients to the Sanatoriums at Mont Alto and Hamburg. The local State Dispensary has taken care of 15 mothers and children for us. This includes general physical and special chest examinations and follow-up care.

We have been instrumental in placing or helping to place nine children in private homes or institutions. For some of them several places were tried before the right one was found, making 13 placings in all. The following Institutions co-operated: The Western Temporary Home for Children, of Philadelphia, The Salvation Army, The Christian Home of York, and the Hoffman Orphanage and County Home of Adams County. We have filed the applications of two boys for entrance to Girard College. At Christmas time we sent gifts of toys and books to four children who had been placed by the Red Cross. The number this year will be greater, and we feel that these children placed by us will especially appreciate Red Cross remembrance at Christmas time. Will you help us to do it?

The physically handicapped person of any age often needs Red Cross service. We have been the connecting link for two men, disabled through accidents, and helped them to apply to the Bureau of Rehabilitation in the State Department of Labor and Industry. A place of training has been secured and one of these men will soon enter a special training that will enable him to overcome a very serious handicap, and he will be able to earn a satisfactory living for his little family.

After the old age pension bill was passed by the recent Legislature nine applicants came to us for information, and their names are filed to be handed to the official who may be appointed to take care of their cases, after the next Legislature meets. Our family problems have been varied, and much of our work for them has been confidential. Many agencies have co-operated with us for them. The State Department of Health and Public Welfare with their many Bureaus have been especially helpful. The Pennsylvania and the York Societies to Protect Children from Cruelty have given us valuable assistance. The Family Service Bureau and the Red Cross Home Service of York have helped us to give service.

We have co-operated with the County organizations of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and the State Health Nurse and County Medical Director, and an expression of appreciation is due these workers. The regular weekly Well Baby Clinic in Gettysburg has had faithful voluntary service by Mrs. William A. Miller, who has been, since its beginning, the Red Cross worker co-operating with Miss Briel, our State Nurse. On Farmers' Day, the Red Cross and State Department of Health again worked together in a weighing of babies and over two hundred were weighed.

We have had willing, cordial co-operation and service from a number of private physicians to whom we have taken our children for examination or treatment.

This work could not have been accomplished without the help of volunteer Red Cross workers in Gettysburg and in all parts of the County, who have responded willingly whenever called upon, and who have kept us in touch with needs in their communities.

Especial mention is due our Home Service Chairman, Mrs. William Arch. McLean, who has unselfishly given her time and service without reserve to every need that presented itself, wherever or whenever it might come.

We face the year with practically an empty treasury. This work for disabled ex-service men and children must end unless Adams County responds to the Roll Call between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day, with Red Cross memberships in a sufficient number to carry on our work.

WE NEED AT THE VERY LEAST TWO THOUSAND MEMBERSHIPS. Your response to Roll Call will show whether you wish the Adams County Red Cross Home Service welfare work to continue.

Will you make it possible for us to do it?

Margaret McMillan,
Sec'y Home Service,

Big Democratic Victory

The entire Democratic ticket in the county is elected, with one contest in doubt and only the official count can determine the sheriff contest and the winner will likely have a majority one can count on the fingers of one or both hands.

The majorities are splendid. Harry Troxell for County Treasurer has over 1600 majority. Luther Plank for Clerk of the Courts is running close with a majority near 1500. These are the high ones and all are comfortable ones, demonstrating that old Adams is once more in the Democratic column.

The official count began on Thursday noon, the Court appointing T. Marshall Mehling and C. E. Tawney, clerks. The first work was the opening of the absent voters ballots. Twenty-five of these were found improperly filled up and had to be cast aside. Those keeping tally first elected one candidate by five and then the other was elected by three. When the official ballots were opened some of the preliminary figures were found reported wrong. The winning Sheriff will have a very small majority.

Teachers' Institute Nov. 12-23.

The Adams County Teachers' Institute will again be divided into departmental groups for specialized work instead of meeting as a single unit for all sessions, according to announcement made by Prof. W. Raymond Shank, county superintendent. This was tried for the first time last year and proved such a success that it was decided to continue it. The institute this year will be held in Xavier Hall, Gettysburg, from November 12 to 23.

The list of instructors includes a number of prominent educators, among them being Dr. Arthur MacMurry, of the University of Kansas; Dr. W. D. Henderson, of the University of Michigan; Dr. Orton Lowe, of the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg; Miss Huldah Brust, rural supervisor, Frederick county, Maryland; Dr. Ezra Lehman, of the normal school at Shippensburg, and Dr. J. Three evening entertainments are secured, Bessie Banks Entertainments, the California Male Quartet and a lecture by Dr. MacMurry.

In addition to the usual routine work of the week the teachers of the county are expected to go on record for and against various educational matters and a committee has been named to draft the sentiments of the institute on all the topics which will be up for discussion. This committee is headed by Prof. Roy Diem, principal of the Arendtsville Vocational School and includes a number of other teachers.

HAILED AS DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPH.

Cordell Hull, Democratic National Chairman, makes following statement upon Tuesday's election:

"The overwhelming, smashing Democratic victories in Kentucky, Maryland and down State New York, and the relatively minor and local Democratic victories elsewhere, furnish additional proof that the voters of the country are against the reactionary controlled Republican national administration in particular, and against the Republican party in sections where the reactionaries are in control of that party."

"The Kentucky State-wide election was a fair and decisive test between Democratic and Republican policies, and between the people and the Republican national administration."

Local issues were disposed of in the primaries. The campaign upon national issues, and the Republicans in addition to making large expenditures in the campaign sent many of their best national orators into the State, including United States Senators and cabinet officers whose plea was to sustain the Coolidge administration. The result was a change of between 70,000 and 80,000 votes in favor of the Democratic candidate as compared with the gubernatorial election of 1919, when the Republican candidate for Governor had a majority of 40,000.

"Both national and local issues figured in the Maryland election and the big increase in the Democratic majority and the triumphant election of the whole ticket in the State and the city ticket in Baltimore shows the growth of Democratic sentiment typical of the country at large and confirms all previous evidence that the country is Democratic where the race is between major candidates."

"The desertion of Republican voters is confirmed also by the reduction of the Republican majority in Vermont by approximately 10,000 compared with the Senatorial election of 1922."

"Altogether, the results of Tuesday's elections are a cause both for gratification and jubilation by Democrats and confirms the certainty of a Democratic national victory in 1924."

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION. STATE FARM BUREAU FEDERATION.

President Coolidge issued his first Thanksgiving Day Proclamation as follows:

The American people, from their earliest days, have observed the wise custom of acknowledging each year the bounty with which Divine Providence has favored them. In the beginnings this acknowledgment was a voluntary return of thanks by the community for the fruitfulness of the harvest. Though our mode of life has greatly changed, this custom has always survived. It has made Thanksgiving Day not only one of the oldest observances of our country. On that day, in home and church, in family and in public gatherings, the whole nation has for generations past the tribute due from grateful hearts for blessings bestowed.

To centre our thought in this way upon the favor which we have been shown has been altogether wise and desirable. It has given opportunity justly to balance the good and evil which we have experienced. In that we have never failed to find reasons for being grateful to God for a generous preponderance of the good. Even in the least propitious times, a broad contemplation of our whole position has never failed to disclose overwhelming reasons for thankfulness. Thus viewing the situation, we have found warrant for a more hopeful and confident attitude toward the future.

In this current year, we now approach the time which has been accepted by custom as most fitting for the calm survey of our estate and the return of thanks. We shall the more keenly realize our good fortune, if we will, in deep sincerity, give to it due thought and more especially if we will compare it with that of any other community in the world.

The year has brought to our people two tragic experiences which have deeply affected them. One was the death of our beloved President Harding, which has been mourned wherever there is a realization of the worth of high ideals, noble purpose and unselfish service carried even to the end of supreme sacrifice. His loss recalled the nation to a less capricious and more charitable attitude. It sobered the whole thought of the country. A little later came the unparalleled disaster to the friendly people of Japan. This called forth from the people of the United States a demonstration of deep and humane feeling. It was wrought into the substance of good works. It created new evidence of our international friendship which is a guarantee of world peace. It replenished the charitable impulse of the country.

By experiences such as these, men and nations are tested and refined. We have been blessed with much of material prosperity. We shall be better able to appreciate it if we remember the privations others have suffered, and we shall be the more worthy of it if we use it for their relief. We will do well, then, to render thanks for the good that has come to us and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser and truer by the chastenings which have been imposed upon us. We will thus prepare ourselves for the part we must have in a world which forever needs the full measure of service. We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most generous people. We have been a most blessed people. We ought to be a most thankful people.

Wherefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby fix and designate Thursday, the 29th day of November, as Thanksgiving Day, and recommend its general observance throughout the land. It is urged that the people gather in their homes and their usual places of worship, give expression to their gratitude for the benefits and blessings that a gracious Providence has bestowed upon them, and seek the guidance of Almighty God that they may deserve a continuance of His favor.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the United States.

Done at the City of Washington, this 5th day of November, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-eighth.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

Apple a Day Keeps Doctor Away.

Appropos of the publicity which has been given during the past week by the Department of Agriculture on the subject of Apples, Dr. Charles H. Miner, Secretary of Health, said: "The soil and climatic conditions of Pennsylvania are peculiarly favorable to the production of apples and from the view point of encouraging an industry which is rapidly assuming great importance to the State, the designation of a week at this period of the year, to be known as 'Apple Week' was timely."

From the health standpoint, however, 'Apple Week' might profitably be extended to cover the entire year. Practically all ripe fruits are wholesome and digestible, the apple particularly so; it is mildly laxative, and in addition to the nutritional and energy producing qualities derived from the presence of sugar and its mineral constituents, it contains vitamins, those mysterious elements which have been demonstrated as absolutely necessary to the transference of the food which we eat into living tissues. Because apples are plentiful in Pennsylvania and more easily obtainable than other fruits and because in addition, they may be kept the year round, physicians in general recommend apples as a part of the regular dietary. They are suitable for the lunch basket, they are pleasing at the table and satisfying when the period between meals has been prolonged. A justifiable argument in favor of the apple is, that when eaten raw, they are of distinctive service for their cleansing effect upon the teeth.

While 'An apple a day keeps the doctor away' which was quoted by one of the writers during the week, may not be accepted in its literal sense, there is no doubt that the eating of ripe apples is in a general way conducive to good health."

THE FARM BUREAU COUNTY AGENT.

The Farm Bureau County Agent has sent out the following letter: You have no doubt received a letter signed by Paul Hoffman, former County Agent, soliciting your membership in the Adams County Farm Bureau.

You have noticed the similarity between the letter head and stationery used by Hoffman and that used by the organization which has been functioning for the past few years as the Adams County Farm Bureau.

You possibly are thinking that the Extension Service with the Farm Agent as its representative is connected with the organization purposed by Paul Hoffman, former County Agent, but such is not the case as Paul Hoffman is no longer connected with the Adams County Farm Bureau, but is Secretary of the State Bureau Federation, an organization formed primarily for cooperative buying and selling; whereas, the present Farm Bureau is an extension service to promote all the interests of the farmer.

I want to caution the farmers of Adams County against paying money with the idea that they are aiding the promotion of the educational and extension work which is the business of State College and the County Agent. Bear in mind this service is absolutely free. The office and general expenses are apportioned by the county. The salary of the County Agent is paid by State and Federal funds.

This caution I think necessary because in the present campaign for membership, Paul Hoffman states in his letter that, "unless we do this thing now, and do it well, it is very doubtful about the future possibilities of the Adams County Farm Bureau," and because they are using signs bearing our name and similar stationery, many farmers may imagine that the Federation has some connection with the Farm Bureau work of Adams County.

Please be advised that the present County Agent is not knocking the Federation of farmers, which Mr. Hoffman is trying to promote, but we do feel it is fair to you to tell you that it has absolutely no connection with the Farm Bureau work that is being done, has been done, or that we propose to do in Adams County.

And we assure you whether you join the Federation of farmers and pay your fee of $10 per year or not, the same loyal service and attention will be given all the Farmers of Adams County, who will accept the service free of charge as we have done in years gone by under the present organization. The Extension Department of the Pennsylvania State College is in a position to help you with your marketing and buying problems no matter how trivial the request. We are at your service whether it be singly or collectively.

R. E. Underwood, County Agent.

LECTURER DISCUSSES AMERICAN PROBLEM.

"One-third of all the insane in our asylums, one-fourth of all the paupers in our almshouses, one-sixth of all the criminals in our penal institutions, are foreign-born." This was the startling fact revealed by Edward Tomlinson, the brilliant southern orator, in his lecture on "The Stranger Within Our Gates" on Tuesday evening, the sixth, in Brua Chapel.

Mr. Tomlinson, has made an exhaustive study of conditions, not only in this country, but in European countries as well, so he was well qualified to speak on the subject of immigration and naturalization. He said that it is necessary to understand the problems of humanity before we can understand the problems of America.

"In the United States today there are 1,000,000 foreigners speaking 42 different languages."

"Athens and Rome were cosmopolitan, and they have made contributions to civilization. The United States is the most cosmopolitan nation in history, but therein lies danger as well as advantage. Since 1890 racial assimilation has become more and more difficult, due to the clash between the types of civilization, and this is responsible for the unrest in this country."

"In 1922, over $500,000,000 in cash was sent back to Italy from the United States by immigrants, while less than 30% of these immigrants became naturalized American citizens."

"America has a contribution to make to the future, but she must be in condition, or she will not be able to make it at all."

"The 30% immigration law is a good one, but should be based on the census of 1890 instead of that of 1910."

"Whenever an individual wishes to enter this country, his record should be looked up before he is allowed to sail from Europe. When a country's quota is filled, no more pass-ports should be issued. There should be a distributing station at the port, so that immigrants would not congest the cities, but go to the place where their labor is most needed. These three things: restricted number of passports, examination of records, and proper distribution of immigrants, should form the basis of new immigration laws."

"Naturalization is as vital a question as immigration. The public school system of America is the greatest single Americanizing force in existence, for it teaches the children a spirit of democracy which cannot be gotten anywhere else. But the schools do not reach the adults."

"There are 1250 foreign language publications in the United States, reaching over 10,000,000 subscribers. These papers should discuss American things and affairs instead of defunct governments in the Old World."

"Finally, it is within everybody's power, and it is everybody's duty, to lift the curtain of ignorance, so that the stranger within our gates may know and understand that mysterious thing, Americanism."

Buy a Bushel Slogan for Apple Week.

"Apple Week" was observed in Pennsylvania this year from October 21 to November 7, in an effort to educate the people of the State in the beautiful value of this fruit, to stimulate a greater use of apples in various ways and thus to help the growers to dispose of their crop locally to the mutual benefit of the growers and the consumer. Pennsylvania's apple crop this year is estimated to be over 11,500,000 bushels.

The initiative in the Apple Week movement has been taken by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture and trade organizations which have enlisted the aid of all public agencies interested in agriculture to bring the quality of Pennsylvania apples to the attention of the consumers and to prevent a single apple of this season's large crop from going to waste.

While Western fruit growers are making a determined assault on the eastern markets with all kinds of claims for their fruit, the truth of the matter is that Pennsylvania apples are far superior in texture and flavor to the apples grown in the West. The fruit from Pennsylvania orchards can be purchased at a cost much lower than that charged for the Western fruit. If bought in bushel or barrel quantities instead of singly, the unit cost is still further reduced for the consumer.

WOMAN'S GENERAL LEAGUE.

The Tenth Annual Meeting a Brilliant Success.

The twelfth annual convention of the Woman's General League convened for the opening session at the "Y" on Thursday morning. With Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the League for the past three years, presiding, the session got under way with a scripture reading and prayer. Mrs. E. L. Shilliday, President of the local League, welcomed the visiting delegates to Gettysburg for the annual convention. Mrs. W. L. Goodman, of Altoona, responded to the address of welcome.

The opening session was concluded with a very impressive memorial service for the members of the League who have died since the last annual convention. As the name of each deceased member was read, a representative from the branch in which she was a member came forward and placed a white flower in a vase. This tribute was paid to fifteen former members. Following the "In Memoriam" services, a selection was sung by the College Quartet.

At the second session the President's address was delivered by Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson. D. J. Doub followed with a solo. The reports of officers and committees formed the major part of the program for the afternoon session. Arthur Johnson, "Y" secretary, talked on the subject, "The Task Begun": The session closed with the benediction by Dr. A. E. Wagner, pastor of the College Church.

The third session of the convention was held in Brua Chapel with Mrs. J. F. Dapp presiding. This session presented several novel entertainment features and was open for the students and friends of the League.

The program got under way with a musical selection by the College Musical Clubs. The invocation and scripture reading followed. The audience, which filled every seat in the main auditorium and annex and all available standing space, then listened to a very pleasing address, by Dr. Hanson, outlining briefly how a college education fits a young man for better citizenship. He also told of the wonderful work the "Y" is performing on the campus, and paid high tribute to the League, whose untiring efforts had established the organization on the campus and provided it with its present home.

Following the address of Dr. Hanson, moving pictures of his recent induction into office were shown. The pictures interested the audience and covered every important phase of the ceremonies, from the procession from Gladfelter Hall to the benediction by Dean Bickle.

A pageant "The Glory of Alma Mater", written by Mrs. H. W. A. Hanson in honor of the tenth anniversary, was presented by the Owl and Nightingale Dramatic Club. The players were directed by Dr. R. A. Arms. The play was in three scenes and sketched the purpose of the founder of the Woman's League, its progress and accomplishments until now when it is the glory of Alma Mater.

Immediately following the entertainment given in Brua Chapel by the Woman's League on Thursday evening, November 1st, a reception was tendered in the Y. M. C. A. Building.

The delegates of the League were received by the "Y" cabinet. The line filed past the members of the cabinet for the greater part of an hour. Following this there was a dedication of all those parts of the Weidensall building which had not previously been dedicated. Mrs. Hanson, the president of the League, conducted the dedicatory exercises.

With the completion of these exercises all formalities ceased, and a regular "get-together" meeting was had. The orchestra led the guests in the singing of old songs, and were instrumental in furnishing "the life of the party."

Very fine refreshments were served toward the close of the entertainment, which lasted several hours.

The concluding session convened at the "Y" on Friday morning and the officers for the ensuing year were elected and installed. Mrs. J. E. Byers of Baltimore was chosen as the new leader. Other officers elected were Mrs. Henry Anstadt, Chambersburg first vice-president; Mrs. J. N. Lauffer, Altoona, second vice-president; Mrs. L. E. Kinch, Pittsburg, statistical secretary; Mrs. P. D. oHoover, Waynesboro, recording secretary; Mrs. C. P. Anstadt, York, treasurer; Mrs. W. F. Strouse, Baltimore, historian; Mrs. J. T. Huddle, Washington, registrar.

COLLEGE INFIRMARY.

An up to date Infirmary for Gettysburg College and Academy, which has long been desired, has finally become a reality. The college property located on the corner of Lincoln and Washington streets, has been converted into a well equipped infirmary, capable of meeting all present requirements.

The building has been divided into north and south portions, the former for the treatment of general cases of sickness and the latter for contagious cases.

All the walls have been painted, a complete electric light system has been installed, and bed and room furnishings have been provided sufficient to accommodate at least eleven patients at one time.

A diet kitchen, adequate toilet facilities, and a better heating system have been introduced. All the ward rooms have fine daylight exposure, and their painted walls promote sanitation as well as attractiveness.

A graduate nurse, Miss Mildred Eden, who demonstrated her trained ability in ministering to the cases of scarlet fever in our midst last winter, will be the responsible nurse, and will reside in the building. Dr. G. D. Stahley, the medical director of the college, will have general supervision.

Fires Originating From Fuel.

There is no more prolific source of originating fires, than woodsheds, coalbins, woodpiles, or even heaps of loose ashes.

Fires are caused by coalbins by lack of proper ventilation which frequently produces explosions from accumulated gases.

Spontaneous combustion is more to be feared from recently mined coal than from that which has been out of the mine for some time. All this applies to storing soft coal. Alternate wetting and drying of coal that is received wet should be avoided.

A few general suggestions and precautions for preventing fires in storage of wood will suffice. Fuel wood should be neatly piled up without large air spaces between the sticks, which causes fire to spread.

The ground around the woodpiles and in the aisles between should be kept clean of rubbish, shavings and old newspapers. Wherever wood or coal are stored there should be easy access to hydrant service and if piled in the house, hose and nozzle should be convenient.

Square Deal For Country Boy And Girl.

Who remembers the Friday afternoon exercises at the country school of 30 or 50 years ago?

This year, Friday, November 23, many thousands of people will be reminded of "old times" when they assemble at the country school house for "Community Day" exercises. This day of "Education Week" will be the "big day" in the rural schools when the community will discuss matters of vital interest. "Equality of Opportunity for Every American Boy and Girl" is the first subject suggested, to be followed by a discussion of the Rural School in particular, the slogan being: "A square deal for the country boy and girl." In some communities the exercises will be continued Friday night.

Saturday, November 24, has been designated as "Physical Education Day" and most of the subjects suggested are of special importance in rural communities. In many places the exercises will be held Saturday night.

Sedan Overturns.

While B. Frank Twisden, of near town, and Guy Waltrich and Lawrence Taylor, of Baltimore, were returning to Gettysburg from Chambersburg on Monday afternoon, the sedan in which they were riding skidded, turned around on the road and upset. The car landed on the top and the three occupants were able to crawl out, none of them being injured. The cause for the accident was thought to be wet leaves on the roadway, which makes very dangerous traveling. The car, which was Mr. Twisden's, was badly damaged.

WORLD ALWAYS HAD "CANDY"

Honey Probably Is Earliest Form of Sweetening Known, and It Was Made Use Of.

The Egyptians made candy as well as pyramids, and made candy without sugar. Sugar and chocolate were unknown to the Egyptians. They used honey as their sweetener, and flour and crude starch were the basis of their confectionery.

In the Middle Ages what we would call candied fruits was the principal confection. They were boiled in honey. As a business the druggist was the first candy maker. Sugar at that time was considered a drug, and from coating drugs with sugar the pharmacist learned to coat nuts and other things. In the sixteenth century sugared roses were considered the best of confections. It was not until the seventeenth century that sugar became a big industry, and it was in the latter part of the century that confectioners were recognized as a distinct class. In the first half of the eighteenth century the first real candy factories appeared. It was about that time that lemon and peppermint drops became popular.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at the Gettysburg Methodist Episcopal church, by Rev. Harry Daniels, with interment in Evergreen cemetery.

Dacid Grant Colley, a well known carpenter of New Chester, Adams County, died at his home in that place Monday morning, aged 55 years, 5 months and 27 days. He was a son of the late Timothy David Colley and Margaret Weigle Colley, and was married to Miss Mary Spangler, who survives with six children: Earl Colley, of York; Mrs. John Grouse and Mrs. Frank By, of New Chester; Harry, Oros and Miss Myrtle Colley, at home; also two sisters, Mrs. John Bushey, of Ardenville, and Mrs. Harry Fohl, of Biglerville. Funeral was on Thursday, with services in the New Chester Union Church, by Rev. Irwin S. Ditzler, and interment in the New Chester Cemetery.

Dr. Alfred Curtis Rice, the well known physician of McSherrystown, died Thursday night, news of his death coming as we go to press. He had been seized with influenza, which quickly developed into pneumonia. He was at the Democratic rally at Cashtown last week. He was about 47 years old, the eldest son of Dr. Geo. L. Rice, and had been very successful in his profession, and had a large clientele.

Dr. R. P. Feiser, a leading citizen of East Berlin and well known veterinarian, passed away Thursday night. He had been in failing health for some time. He had taken a prominent part in the affairs of his town and had many friends.

Clifton H. Simpson, newspaper man of wide experience, has moved with family from Brooklyn, New York, to the former George W. Sheaffer farm, near Gettysburg, which he recently purchased.

A Million a Month

Nearly a million dollars' worth of switchboards and other Central Office equipment is being added to the Bell System in Pennsylvania every month this year.

Every Central Office is included in the construction program—the greatest ever undertaken in this state.

Nearly a million a month inside our buildings!

And our 1924 program is a monthly average of a million, two hundred and fifty thousand.

Construction is costly now? Yes, but telephones are needed. They are needed now. Next year or the year after won't do.

We are building now, because the demand for service are with us now.

DON'T MISTAKE THE CAUSE.

Many Gettysburg People Have Kidney Trouble and Do Not Know It.

Do you have backache?
Are you tired and worn out?
Feel dizzy, nervous and depressed?
Are the kidney secretions irregular?
Highly colored; contain sediment?
Likely your kidneys are at fault.
Weak kidneys give warning of distress.

Heed the warning; don't delay—
Use a tested kidney remedy.
Read this Gettysburg testimony.
Edward Newman, 26 Franklin St., says: "My kidneys were in poor shape. For a long time my back was in so weak and disordered a condition. I could hardly lift anything, and when I bent over, knife-like pains never failed to shoot across my kidneys. Mornings I felt sore in my joints and limbs and would be all tired out. My kidneys were too free in action and I was bothered during the night. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills in Doan's Directory and got a few boxes. They did away with the backache and put my kidneys in the best of shape."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Newman had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
